

Student Research Assistant (f/m/d) at the Professorship of Global Security & Technology

About us

The Professorship of Global Health (TUM School of Social Sciences & Technology) is looking to hire a student research assistant (f/m/d) for up to 8h/week, to in October 2023. The job offers you insights into the everyday operations of a university and the research of Prof. Dr. Janina Steinert (global health, development economics, quantitative methods).

Qualifications

- German and English skills in oral and written form
- Ability to work independently, precisely, and in a structured manner
- Quick understanding and reliability
- Good team and communication skills
- Excellent software skills (especially R, Stata, Latex, Microsoft Office)
- High interest in social science research
- Good knowledge of and interest in empirical methods of social science and Statistics

Tasks

- Working with research data (e.g., coding, compiling, processing, visualization)
- Literature research
- Assisting the professorship in preparing and organizing teaching
- General support of the professorship

We offer

- An interesting and challenging job in a motivated team.
- Insights into research at the Professorship of Global Health
- Flexible working hours and workplace
- Salary according to the standards for student assistants at the Technical University of Munich

Application

Please send your application (including a cover letter, your CV, and a current transcript of records) in electronic form as a single pdf file with the subject line: SHK_GH_2023 to bastian.gruschwitz@tum.de. The application deadline is 15 July 2023.

We are looking forward to your application!

HfP strives to raise the proportion of women in its workforce and explicitly encourages applications from qualified women.

The position is suitable for disabled persons. Disabled applicants will be given preference in case of generally equivalent suitability, aptitude and professional performance. Your workplace will be centrally located in Munich at the Hochschule für Politik (Munich School for Politics and Public Policy), home office arrangements are possible.